

Happenings of the Day In Capital Smart Set

Items of Interest and Importance of Past, Present, and Future Among Official and Fashionable Folk.

Many Entertainments Are Planned by the Leaders of Society in Washington. Gossip of Hostesses.

Mrs. Garlington, wife of Gen. Ernest A. Garlington, has as her house guest Mrs. Winter, wife of Col. F. A. Winter, of the Medical Corps, stationed at the Hot Springs, Ark.

Mrs. Winter was the guest of honor at a luncheon and bridge party which Mrs. Charles Porter gave this afternoon at her apartment in the Portner. The other guests were Mrs. Garlington, Mrs. I. W. Little, Mrs. F. C. Almsworth, Mrs. Jesse Ramberg, Mrs. C. C. McCulloch, and Mrs. Willard Warner.

Capt. Joseph Earle, U. S. A., stationed at the Washington Barracks, is now on a leave of several months duration, and is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. H. Earle, at her home in Greenville, S. C. He will come to Washington next week for a short stay. Captain Earle's marriage to Miss Virginia Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. John E. Wheeler, will probably take place soon, this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Walker, who have lived in Bradley lane, Chevy Chase, for some time, have taken a house in Cathedral avenue.

Rear Admiral William H. Emory, U. S. N., retired, and family, who have been at the New Cliffs in Newport for some time, will arrive in Washington this week.

Philander C. Knox, some time Secretary of State, and Mrs. Knox have taken an apartment in the Connecticut, where they expect to spend the greater part of the winter. They will probably go to Florida in January, after their usual custom, as Mr. Knox is very fond of golf and likes to play during the winter months.

Miss Catherine Woodrow, of Columbia, S. C., has arrived in Washington, and is making a short visit at the White House. Miss Woodrow is a sister of Fitzwilliam Woodrow, who has been a frequent visitor at the White House during the past two years.

Miss Della Torrey, favorite aunt of former President William Howard Taft, celebrated her ninetieth birthday yesterday at her home in Worcester, Mass.

Col. Eugene F. Laid, U. S. A., of the adjutant general's department, has been retired. It is probable that Colonel Laid will return to his home in Boston, where they have been since early spring.

Invitations have been received in Washington from Mr. and Mrs. Willard McConnell for the marriage of their daughter, Ada Rorick, to Wallace Donald McLean, on September 25, at Christ Church, Adrian, Mich. A reception at the home of the bride will follow the ceremony.

St. Mark's Episcopal Church was the scene of an interesting wedding yesterday, when Miss Anne Pauline Moncure, granddaughter of the late Secretary of War, and the Rev. C. R. Stetson, of the Episcopal church, were given in marriage by her uncle, C. E. Brown, with whom she has made her home, and Mrs. Brown was matron of honor. Mr. Brown was best man for his brother, Mr. Backschmidt, and his bride left Washington immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew De W. Hart, of Albemarle county, Va., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Goodwin, and William Atkinson Jones, Jr., son of Congressman and Mrs. William A. Jones, of Warsaw, Va.

Mrs. Lloyd W. Bowers is spending a few days at her home in Connecticut avenue, having returned to Washington at this time to say good-by to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bowers, who are to leave Saturday for Chicago, where they will make their home, and where Mrs. Bowers will practice law. They are stopping while here with Mrs. Bowers, who will open her house for the season until December. Mrs. Bowers is to leave in a few days for Hot Springs, Va., where she will spend the autumn.

Congressman Thomas B. Dunn, of Rochester, and Mrs. Dunn, who have taken the house of Secretary of State Philander C. Knox, in K street, for the winter, arrived in Washington yesterday to look after the opening of their home, and with their son, are staying at the Willard.

Col. and Mrs. William Wheatley were guests at the dinner party which Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dargan, of Atlanta, gave last night at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs.

James P. Nelson, of Lexington, Va., is at the Shoreham. Other guests at the Shoreham are E. D. Woodward, C. R. Brown, H. L. Ripley, G. S. Carmichael, and M. C. Braden, all of Boston. P. Russell, of New Haven; Robert Minum, of New York; and J. H. Gardner, Mrs. Ashton Potter, and Miss Grace Potter, all of New York city.

Contrary to its former custom of beginning this year's work in November, the Twentieth Century Club will hold its first meeting next Thursday. "The Statutory Minimum Wage" is to be discussed by Dr. A. J. McKelney, local secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, who will be presented by Rome G. Brown, of Minneapolis, who at one time was president of the American Bar Association. The public is invited to hear the program at 11:30 in All Souls' Church, Fourteenth and L streets.

Commander John H. Dayton, U. S. N., who has been stationed on the United States steamship Sargata, for some time, will come to Washington in the immediate future to be on duty at the Bureau of Navigation, in the Navy Department.

Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell arrived at the New Willard yesterday. Chapman Coleman, American consul at Rome, Italy, is another arrival at the same hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Taft closed their country place at Warlick Neck, R. I. yesterday and returned to their home in Providence for the winter.

John R. McLean has closed his villa at Narragansett Pier, and is making short stay at the Waldorf in New York while en route to this city, where he will pass the next six weeks at Friends-ship, his suburban home near Cleveland Park.

Dr. Arthur Keith, of this city, is visiting Prof. and Mrs. George F. Becker in Trivikham, near Lenox, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls, Jr., who have been at the Virginia Hot Springs since early summer, will take a coaching party to Passaic, N. J., tomorrow to attend the fourth annual race meet of the Tassafem Hunt Club. They will also entertain their guests at a luncheon at the farm house. In the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Bedell Harned, Miss Katherine Eny, Miss Gladys Ingalls, Viscount J. Henri Sibour, Henry F. Eldridge, and John S. Eldridge.

Surgeon General William K. Van Reypen, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Van Reypen are guests at the Elmwood Court Inn, Pittsfield, Mass.

Maj. Gen. Samuel S. Sumner, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Sumner are making a lengthy stay at the Curtis Hotel in Lenox, Mass.

Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin, wife of Brigadier General Baldwin, U. S. A., retired, who has been the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin, Jr., for a Tennessee, has returned to her home in Tennessee. Mrs. Baldwin entertained informally at tea on Tuesday afternoon in compliment to her guest.

Mrs. Isaac W. Little, wife of Colonel Little, U. S. A., was hostess at an informal bridge party on Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Whitman at their home in Morristown, N. J., for several months, expects to return to Washington the first of next week. Miss Bennett will be one of the season's debutantes.

The Misses Mellon, who have been at Bar Harbor for the summer, have gone to Hot Springs, and will be at the home of Mrs. J. H. Mellon, now at Mrs. Stotesbury's home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury and her daughter, Mrs. Walter B. Brooks, Jr., who have been at the Ritz, in New York, for several months, are now at Mrs. Stotesbury's home in Philadelphia.

Dr. Wellington Koo, Dr. W. P. Wei, and Dr. T. L. Lun, all of Peking, are at the Shoreham.

Miss Wallis Warfield, who has been the guest of Major Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett at their summer home, Wakefield Manor, in Virginia, is now visiting Miss Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Yulle, at Bronxville, N. Y. Miss Warfield will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of the first week in November of Miss Yulle to William J. Sturgis.

B. F. Saul, of this city, is one of the late arrivals at the Virginia Hot Springs.

Chandler Hale is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Gerry, at Warwick Neck, R. I.

MILLINERY CLASS FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

Arrangements Announced for Opening of Evening Instruction in District.

So popular did the millinery courses in night schools become last year that a special class will be devoted to millinery work this year. This school will be at Eighth and I streets northeast.

Arrangements for night schools were announced today by B. W. Murch, supervisor in charge of them. They will open on October 11.

White high school night classes will be conducted at Business and McKinley. White grade schools will be at the Thompson, Twelfth and L northwest; the Wallace, Seventh and Pennsylvania avenue southeast; the Jefferson, Sixth and D southwest; and the Madison, Tenth and G northwest. In addition to these there will be cooking classes at the Berrett, Fourteenth and Q; at the Morse, R, near New Jersey avenue, and the French, Sixth and G southeast.

Principal Emory Wilson, of the Business High night school, said that Frank Daniel, of the McKinley High night school, will be in their classes from 6 to 8 o'clock on the evenings of October 8 and 9 for the registration of pupils. On the same evenings, grade school principals will enroll pupils at the buildings they desire to attend. Colored high schools will be at the Phelps, Vermont avenue, near T, where business courses may be had, and at the Armstrong, Second and D, where the colored grade schools will be. The following schools: Garnett, Tenth and L northwest; Stevens, Twenty-second and L northwest; Randall, First and southwest; Cardozo Manual Training, First near I southwest; Garfield and Birney, Adams and L northwest. Other schools in outlying sections may be opened as needed.

SONS OF VETERANS AUXILIARY ADJOURNS

With a concluding session this morning for the installation of newly elected officers, the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary adjourned their convention at the Shoreham Hotel.

These officers, elected last evening, follow: Mrs. Libbie Meis, of Philadelphia, national president; Miss Mary Trede, Patterson, N. J., vice president; Mrs. Beale Bower, the retiring president; Mrs. Rose Rutledge, of Washington, and Miss Margaret Waters, of Woburn, Mass., members of the national council; Mrs. Jennie Horton, Pen Yan, N. Y., chaplain; Mrs. Catherine Reese, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, treasurer; Mrs. Minnie Groth, Baradoc, Wis., in-pector; Mrs. Myrtle Stewart, Detroit, Minn., installing officer; Miss Margaret Dwyer, New York city, patriotic instructor, and Miss Jennie Phoebe, Dwight, Ill., press correspondent.

At Rauscher's last evening a reception was held by the ladies of the Sons of Veterans. Commander-in-Chief Charles Sherman, of the Sons of Veterans, a surprise program, provided by the Maryland division of the auxiliary (which includes Washington) was a series of motion pictures of patriotic subjects accompanied by songs by Albert Lang.

Mrs. Bessie Bower, the retiring president, in addition to presents given her earlier in the day, was the recipient last evening of a cut glass marble jar from the Massachusetts division and a silver penknife from the Ohio division.

PROBE TO FOLLOW SUICIDE OF PLANT

Receiver to Begin Investigation of Young Banker's Accounts Tomorrow.

(Continued from First Page.) forsaken me? Why art thou so far from helping me and from the words of my roasting?" Satisfied that the financier had taken his own life, the receiver, deeming an inquest unnecessary, surrendered the body to an undertaker, after first informing Plant's mother and sister, with whom he had been neighbors for some time, of the fate of the young business man.

Plant Popular Here in Club, Social, and Business Circles

Arthur G. Plant was popular in club, fraternal, business, and social circles. He was ordinarily a genial disposition, but his friends say he had had periods of depression during the last few weeks. It was recalled today that he watched the G. A. R. parade from the roof of the National Press Club, of which he was an associate member, and appeared unusually quiet and preoccupied when friends endeavored to engage him in conversation.

Mr. Plant did not watch the entire parade, but left early with the statement that he had a business engagement. Attached to the petition in bankruptcy, filed by creditors yesterday, was a note from Mr. Plant, written on Wednesday, the day of the parade, saying that he was unable to meet his obligations "at this time."

Member of Many Clubs. Mr. Plant was a member of the Commercial, the Cosmos, the University, the Washington Canoe, and the Columbia Country Clubs, as well as the Press Club. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar, and a Mystic Shriner. The business career of Mr. Plant was practically begun when he was but fifteen years of age. He was a clerk and runner at that age in the National Safe Deposit Bank, of which his father was founder and first president. While employed in this institution, Mr. Plant studied law and was graduated from the Columbia Law School in 1901. After leaving the law school, in 1901, Mr. Plant went to the Traders' National Bank, at Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth street, as the manager of its savings department. He was vice president of that institution when it was merged into the Merchants and Mechanics' Bank, several years ago. About six years ago Mr. Plant entered business for himself, establishing the firm of A. G. Plant & Co.

The business prospered for a time, and then the outbreak of the European war the brokerage firm of Plant appeared to be on the highway to success. War stocks are said to have been responsible in part for the beginning of the firm's financial difficulties. For the last year, it is now said, the firm was involved and the situation became acute within the last few weeks.

Mr. Plant was a self-made man and there was universal regret in business and financial circles today when it was learned that he had killed himself. His father was one of the pioneer business men of Washington, and young Arthur, who showed a disposition early in life to enter business and fight his own way, was generally well liked.

Only two weeks ago, it is understood, a friend assisted in going over the Plant books, and suggested the calling in of creditors. "No, I am going to fight it out alone, and I am going to win," Plant is said to have replied in answer to this suggestion.

To stop dandruff and loss of hair

Shampoo with hot water, rubbing thoroughly into the scalp the rich, creamy lather of so as to soften and stimulate the scalp, to remove the dead skin cells, and to work the soothing, healing Resinol balsams well into the roots of the hair. Rinse in gradually cooler water, the final water being cold. Dry the hair thoroughly, without artificial heat. This simple, agreeable method always stops dandruff and scalp itching, and keeps the hair live, thick and lustrous.

Resinol Soap leaves no stickiness or unpleasant odor in the hair. Use regularly for the toilet. It clears and freshens the complexion wonderfully. Sold wherever toilet goods are carried. For free sample, write to Dept. 5-F, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

DAUGHTERS SELECT COUNCIL MEMBERS

Committee reports and hearings of recommendations for the furtherance of their organization consumed the business sessions of the Daughters of Veterans, meeting at the New Willard, which expects to finish its convention late today.

Greetings were received by the organization from delegates from the Auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans this morning. Five council members were elected to the list of officers chosen yesterday.

In connection with the elections it is announced that the new council members elected today were: Mrs. Lulu Carlin, former national president, of Chicago; Mrs. Florence Haines, of California; Mrs. Nellie Orchard, of Connecticut; Mrs. Benson, of Maine; and Mrs. Clara Gilchrist, of Illinois. Appointive officers consisting of four guards are being chosen this afternoon. The completion of the list of officers will be followed by the installation of officers, said to be one of the most impressive ceremonies in the ritual.

Other solemn ceremonies will be the farewells of the members expected to conclude the meeting late this afternoon. All the members gather in an "endless circle" about the national president and sing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

USE ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing condition does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet and the best proven measures. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-Kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-Kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack. Shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and relief. Anti-Kamnia may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all pain. Adv.

MRS. LAURA I. SMITH HONORED BY W. R. C.

Massachusetts Woman Elected National Senior Vice President of the Organization.

Mrs. Laura I. Smith, of Attleboro, Mass., was unanimously elected national senior vice president of the Woman's Relief Corps at the business session of the order this morning at the Metropolitan M. E. Church. Mrs. Carrie T. Bahrenburg, of Belleville, Ill., had already been elected national president.

Mrs. Smith was national patriotic instructor during the past year and had charge of all patriotic exercises of the W. R. C. during the encampment here.

Following the usual custom in election of national officers of honoring the entertaining department of the Woman's Relief Corps, delegates then nominated Mrs. Mamie P. Dorsey, president of the Department of the Potomac, for the position of national junior vice president, and elected her unanimously.

Consideration of routine matters of business then occupied delegates until noon, when recess was taken for luncheon served in the banquet rooms by the ladies of the church.

Other national officers are now being elected by the delegates, who, undisturbed by the heavy rain, completely filled the big auditorium of the church long before the time for opening the meeting. Selection of the remaining officers will complete business affairs of the order for this encampment, and it is hoped to obtain an adjournment of the session early this afternoon.

The usual patriotic exercises were carried out when the session opened at 9 o'clock this morning with national president, Mrs. Sarah E. Fulton, in the chair. Great enthusiasm has marked the sessions of the encampment of women up to this time, and the remainder of the business is expected to be transacted in short order.

The feature of the encampment for the women yesterday was the presentation of a handsome silk flag to the Sunday school of the Metropolitan M. E. Church by the patriotic instructor, Laura I. Smith. Handsome souvenir flags also were presented to the Eastern High School and the Peabody School by the Women's Relief Corps yesterday, when patriotic exercises were held.
